Overview

The Coolabah Global Floating-Rate High Yield Complex ETF (CBOE: YLDX) aims to provide investors with higher income than other traditional fixed income investments by investing in a portfolio of investment-grade bonds and hybrid securities and enhancing the yields through the use of gearing or leverage.

YLDX invests in a portfolio of investment grade senior and Tier 2 bonds and cash securities issued in G10 currencies by global banks and insurers. It has the capacity to invest in government bonds, corporate bonds and hybrid securities.

The Fund targets an interest rate duration exposure of less than 3 months by investing primarily in short-term deposits and floating-rate debt securities, also known as ‘Floating-Rate Notes’ (“FRNs”) or ‘Floating-Rate Bonds’. FRNs are a type of bond that pay an interest (or coupon) rate which moves up and down with changes in a recognised reference interest rate. The interest (or coupon) rate is the sum of the reference rate and a spread or margin. In Australia, they generally track the returns of the RBA’s cash rate plus a spread or margin and generally have a low or near-zero interest rate risk.

The Fund may also invest in fixed-rate bonds with maturities greater than 12 months provided the interest rate is hedged to floating.

Coolabah applies bottom-up and top-down fundamental analysis of both issuers of the securities and the credit quality and structural features of the securities themselves to build a portfolio of global cash and debt investments that offer attractive yields whilst minimising the risk of capital loss.

The Fund does not invest in equities, property, sub-investment grade debt or private credit.

The Fund is permitted to use leverage.
